Madonna Credit—Literacy

Strategies, EDU 6910.71

This course is a deep exploration of literacy in the content areas with broader applications to Web 2.0. Participants will learn to use the newest technology tools in order to reach the new type of learners in our classrooms. Teachers do not need to have taken Mission Possible previously to enroll in this course. Those who took Mission Possible last year can also take this sequel.

MOODLE ONLINE LEARNING TRAINING

Facilitator: Tim Davis

Tuesday, February 9, 2010

SB-CEUs TBD

This will be a face-to-face session to introduce participants to the MOODLE Online environment. The training will also include 6-8 weeks of online learning.

SUBJECT AREA ROUNDTABLES

Roundtables will be similar in format for each subject area. Their purpose is to provide a forum for thoughtful conversation about common purpose, curriculum, instruction, and assessment with other teachers in your area of expertise. There will be good opportunity to share ideas, suggest strategies, and identify what else needs to be done to help all teachers reach all students.

The COOR Coordinating Council for Professional Development (CCCPD) encourages teachers to interact with colleagues from other schools in the ISD and begin to form networks for sharing ideas and best practices on an ongoing basis. New this year are roundtable sessions for elementary teachers of Science, Social Studies, Mathematics, Reading, and Writing.

Participants must fulfill all requirements as described under “What You Need To Know and Do”.
